Revelries Tryouts Open Next Tuesday

Tryouts for Spartan Revelries of '52 will begin Tuesday, Feb. 12, at 7 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Dave Woods, production director of the show.

The tryouts, which are open to the entire student body, will continue through Feb. 14, with that night being reserved for chorus aspirants, Woods said. "The first night, Tuesday, will test the caliber of students who desire principal roles and other positions in the cast, while callbacks will be held Wednesday, Feb. 13."

Students trying out for singing positions may bring their own accompanist, but must be prepared to sing a number by Cole Porter, Jerome Kern or Richard Rogers, said Maurice Bodwell, musical director.

"Kiss Me Hello," the title of this spring's production, is a modernized musical adaptation of the Faust legend. "The mythically satirical first scene centers in a mythical fraternity house on a mythical college campus in the continental U.S.A.," according to Mary Hall, co-author.

"Actually, the show opens in the lower depths of hell and the action that follows carries the scene through Cuba, Kentucky, France and Spain, among other places," said Woods, who collaborated with Hall in writing the script.

Blood Donor Drive Nets 624 Pledges

The first day of room to room soliciting for blood donors resulted in the signing of 624 pledge cards, according to blood drive officials.

These pledge cards were given to almost all student members of the college yesterday morning in 9:30 o'clock classes by volunteer speakers who urged Spartans to participate in the drive.

Feb. 11 through Feb. 15 will be Blood Drive Week on the campus, according to Bob Dean, chairman of organization competition.

To stimulate spirit in the drive, Dean has asked the cooperation of every organization on campus to try and let the students and residents of Santa Clara county know that the college is shooting towards 100 per cent participation in the drive.

A display will be arranged at the entrance to the Morris Dailey auditorium during the week to "show all the students and visitors to the campus how we are progressing in our drive and display," according to Dean.

He revealed that the following general names will designate the campus groups taking part in the competition during the drive: social fraternity, social sorority, service organization, honorary organization, departmental organization, religious organization, campus club, and living group.

All students may receive credit for the college and their organizations in the following manner in the blood campaign, Dean said:

First, by donating blood at the Red Cross Mobile Unit to be on campus during the drive week or to the Santa Clara Valley Red Cross Center, 440 N. First street.

Second, by having donated a pint of blood in the three months prior to Feb. 11 and having proof of such donation.

Third, by having volunteered to give blood and, upon examination, found incapable of being able to donate because of physical reasons and then going to the Health office and receiving a "physically incapable of donating blood" stamped on his pledge card.

Student Union Board Meets

The prospects for the building of a new Student Union will be among the items to be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the Student Union board, it was announced yesterday by the board's director, Miss Helen Dimmick, dean of women.

"There is no doubt that a new campus union is needed," Dean Dimmick said. "However," she continued, "when and how we can get it still is the question."

Dean Dimmick also said that at tomorrow's meeting she will submit to the Student Council a statement to the effect that the increased work of her office will no longer permit her to handle the scheduling of functions for the Student Union.

40th Division Now Officially in Korea

Tokyo.—An announcement from General Matthew Ridgway's headquarters said, "The 40th United States Infantry division has been assigned to the Eighth army and is now in Korea."

The announcement Sunday was the first official admission that the California National Guard division is fighting in Korea.

South Is Anti-Truman

Washington, D.C.—Senator John J. Sparkman predicted yesterday that the South will stay in the Democratic fold this year for any presidential candidate the party may nominate besides President Truman.

The Alabama Democrat said he definitely includes Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois among the potential candidates who could prevent a repetition of the 1948 Dixiecrat revolt.

Name Top Spartan Athlete Tonight

What Spartan athlete contributed the most to San Jose State through the medium of athletics in January?

The answer will be disclosed tonight during the intermission of the SJS-Minnesota boxing matches. Jess Aguilar, president of the Associated Men Students, will present the winner with a trophy and a merchandise order. The winner was decided by ballot last night of the "Athlete of the Month" board in a meeting at the Men's gym.

Tickets Available For Closing Nights

"What Every Woman Knows" ends its five-day run tomorrow, but tickets for tonight and Wednesday night are still available, according to Mrs. Virginia Vogel, secretary in the Speech department.

They may be purchased in the speech office, Room 57, for 60 cents with ASB card and 90 cents without, she added.

Directed by Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, assistant professor of speech, the James M. Barrie comedy stars Judith Levy as Maggie Wylie and Warren Blomseth as John Shand.

Curtain time for the production is 8:15 p.m.

Next major drama production at the college will be Armand Salacrou's "Nights of Wrath," a tragedy of the Nazi occupation of France, which will be directed by Dr. James H. Clancy.

SJS Increases Its Enrollment

Although there was an eight per cent decrease in total college and university enrollment throughout the United States and a one per cent decrease in enrollment in California State colleges between 1950 and 1951, San Jose State college showed an enrollment increase of 11.5 per cent over the same period, according to a report issued by the Division of State Colleges and Teacher Education.

However, the figures for SJS do not include enrollment in the Junior college, which showed a marked decrease in enrollment. The state has ordered that the Junior college be separated from the State college.

The total enrollment of full-time students in both the college and the Junior college showed a 4.5 per cent decrease, still considerably below the national average.

The report showed that San Jose State college leads the other California colleges in individual enrollment, the 7105 registered here being 1174 more than runner-up San Francisco State college. San Diego State, Fresno State, Cal Poly, Sacramento State, Long Beach State, Chico State and Humboldt State follow in that order.

Proportion of men and women enrolled here also shows a divergence from national figures. At San Jose State college, 55.2 per cent of the students are male as compared with a 66.1 per cent national figure.

Arizona Flagstone To Adorn Chapel

Workers will be engaged this week in applying decorative Arizona flagstone material to exterior portions of the college's chapel, according to Fred Zeissler, job foreman.

Predominantly of a tan hue, the flagstone is being placed around the building's buttresses, reaching to the eaves, and also on the back section of the chapel.

Mr. Zeissler added that interior painting of the structure's roof and window-trimming, preparatory to inauguration of glass work, now is underway.

Library Features New I.A. Exhibit

An Industrial Arts department exhibit, featuring work done in various departmental classes, was installed yesterday in the college library, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

Impaneled along the first floor corridor and in the stairway-landing exhibit case, the display touches on practically all aspects of the I.A. curriculum.

A replica of Alexander Bell's first telephone also is included in the arts and crafts show.

Germany Is Topic

"Germany and the Future of Europe" will be the topic of discussion at the International Relations club meeting to be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

According to Sanford Weinberg, president of the group, the discussion will be concerned with current social, economic, and political problems in Germany, emphasizing neo-nazism as well as Germany's possibility of cooperating with the States of Europe.

Sign Stanford-Spartan Schedule Worries End

By ROY HURLBERT

Big things developed on the Spartan football front yesterday! 1. Stanford and Pepperdine were added to the San Jose State grid list thereby giving the Spartans a full schedule of nine games next fall.

2. Glenn S. Hartranft indicated that the college is headed for a restricted football policy which could cause a return to the California Collegiate Athletic association or the formation of an independent conference by 1953.

Voting Slated For ASB, AMS Class Officers

Students interested in running for various Student Body, Student Court, and Associated Men Student offices this quarter can pick up applications for petitions in the Student Union beginning Friday morning at 8 o'clock.

These applications for the forthcoming Feb. 22 election may be obtained from a box near the ASB office in the Union. Deadline for filing is 12 noon next Tuesday, and the forms must be placed in the box near the student body office.

The separate class officers of president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and council representative are open to members of the senior class, junior class, and sophomore class, according to Larry Olsen, junior justice of the Student Court.

He said the only freshman officers to be decided upon in the election are a council representative for half a year and a council representative for a full year.

The position of junior representative to the Student Court for one year is open to one male and one female student, he related.

All men on campus will have an opportunity on election day to decide who will be president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer for the Associated Men Students.

Olsen urges students to comply with the final deadline for applications for petitions.

Cal Budget Lists $2,987,064 for SJS

A slight increase in finances for the fiscal year starting July 1 was given SJS in the proposed budget figure of $2,987,064, announced yesterday by the State Department of Finance. This amount constitutes a 4.2 per cent increase over the $2,867,818 appropriation made for the current year.

Total money proposed in the budget to operate State colleges and the Department of Education for the coming year was $24,548,260.

Reason for the slight increase granted SJS in the proposed budget was the fact that attendance jumped from 6468 in fall, 1950, to 7105, fall 1951.

President T. W. MacQuarrie said the SJS allocation was not final, but that there is little chance of its being raised.

The Weather

Albert P. Garbunkle, bird-watcher and feather-bed manufacturer, smiled cannily yesterday. "Picked up two robins and a duck-billed platypus on my radar," said he, grinning. "About time the fine-feathered fowl was starting back this way. I'm down to my last two buckets of bird-fur."

For today, morning fog and low flying platypuses.

New Employee

Mrs. B. Perry was employed Friday as assistant statistician in the Registrar's office, according to C. W. Quinley, acting registrar.

The position formerly was held by Mrs. Catherine Anderson, who was promoted to statistician. The job of statistician was recently vacated by Miss Eileen Wilson, when she was married to Kurt Kahara.

The signing of Stanford perked up things in the athletic department. It was made possible by Santa Clara officials who let the Spartans have their Nov. 1 date with Stanford, while they agreed to meet the Indians on Sept. 20.

Pepperdine will journey to Spartan stadium on Nov. 14. The game was arranged last Friday at the California Collegiate Athletic association meeting in Los Angeles, attended by Hartranft and Athletic Director Bill Hubbard.

The addition of Stanford and Pepperdine leaves the Spartans with four home games and five traveling dates. They meet Fresno State, Brigham Young, Pepperdine and Santa Clara in Spartan stadium, and play Colorado at Boulder, San Diego State at San Diego, College of Pacific at Stockton, Arizona State at Tempe, and Stanford in Palo Alto.

The Spartans have an open date on Oct. 25, but whether they will add another opponent is problematical. "We feel our schedule is quite adequate with nine games," Hartranft said yesterday.

Negotiations with Texas Tech fell through last week when Red Raider officials notified the athletic department they wouldn't be able to play the Spartans.

Hartranft said yesterday that San Jose State faces a considerable revision in its football policy after next season. "We can't have a successful enough season for big-time football," he said.

He indicated that his plan for low-budget, non-subsidized football seems the only way out for the smaller schools. He emphasized the point that organizing an independent conference "cannot be done overnight and requires groundwork."

His office has been flooded with calls requesting information on his "independent conference" plan. Hartranft has sent out letters to the independents explaining his views for a conference and will await official replies from the independents individually.

As for the CCAA, Hartranft said its members were anxious to have the Spartans back in the fold, but "we made no commitments," he said.

"We can't give the CCAA an answer until December," he said. "The CCAA is all for reducing subsidy costs and eliminating recruiting, et cetera."

"If either the CCAA or the independents, or both, come up with a workable proposal, then we will be in favor of it," Hartranft explained.

The Spartans quit CCAA competition in 1949 to become a major independent. In the same year, the idea of organizing a conference of independents was sidelined after a few preliminary discussions.

The schedule:

Sept. 20—Colorado
Sept. 27—San Diego State
Oct. 4—Arizona State
Oct. 10—Fresno State
Oct. 18—COP
Nov. 1—Stanford
Nov. 7—Brigham Young
Nov. 14—Pepperdine
Nov. 22 or 27—Santa Clara
*—Home games.

Boxing Tickets

Today is the last day to buy student tickets for the Minnesota boxing matches tonight in the Men's gym, according to the Graduate Manager's office. The remaining tickets will be sold on a "first come first serve, basis." Tickets are 35 cents, with ASB cards.

Broncos Lend A Hand

Our neighbors from the University of Santa Clara yesterday extended a gentlemanly gesture to San Jose State in general and the football program here in particular.

Thanks to the Broncos, Coach Bob Bronzan's Spartans will meet Stanford's Indians on the gridiron next fall.

Bronco athletic officials graciously exchanged the date of their game on Stanford's schedule, thereby giving the Spartans opportunity to play the Indians.

Santa Clara will play Stanford on Sept. 20 instead of Nov. 1, and Bronzan's team will take the Nov. 1 engagement. San Jose State couldn't have played the Indians at any other time, since Stanford's schedule was filled up and the Spartans already had a Sept. 20 date with Colorado, the only "open" date left on the Stanford schedule.

Spartan officials were worried about the Stanford game. They weren't sure whether they would get it. But Santa Clara came through with a helping hand.

The result is that Spartan schedule problems have vanished, now that nine games definitely are lined up. Ironically, San Jose State's schedule shapes up as stronger than ever. It bears a distinct "major" tinge with Stanford, Arizona State, Brigham Young, Santa Clara, Colorado, and College of Pacific included as opponents.

The signing of Stanford means a lot to Spartan football. The game brings income and prestige. But Spartan football still is at the crossroads. It could stay on a restricted "major" level or it could backtrack to the independent conference idea or the California Collegiate Athletic Association.

Everything hinges on the 1952 season. If the Spartans have a successful season in the win-loss column and also at the gate, the decision to quit the "major" level may be a tough one to make. On the other hand, if 1952 proves disappointing in these two categories, then the idea of an independent conference or a return to the CCAA will be necessary, worthwhile considerations. R.H.

Polio Film Scores

During the past week, movie screens in thousands of theaters throughout the United States showed one of the most moving "shorts" ever filmed. The film, titled "You'll Never Walk Alone," was on the screen for only four minutes, but in that time it brought tears to the eyes of its audiences.

"You'll Never Walk Alone" referred to receivers of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis funds collected in its annual contribution campaign, which was conducted last month.

The "short" sketch featured a Hollywood singer-actor, Howard Keel, singing the song "You'll Never Walk Alone" as he walked through a children's polio ward of a hospital. The rest of the film showed a 2½-year-old boy walking on crutches down a hall to his mother and father.

It was while viewing this pathetic child with a brace on each of his legs that the eyes of the audiences became misty.

Since the initial National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis drive in 1938, the motion picture industry in Hollywood has produced one "short" per year for the campaign. But never in all of these years, has it produced one such as "You'll Never Walk Alone." J.L.

Exhibit Shows Coffee Making

"The Evolution of a Cup of Coffee," an exhibit showing the processes used in making coffee from the bean stage to human consumption, now is on display in the Home Economics building.

The project is the work of Mrs. Ruth Baumgardner, senior home economics major, and will be on display through Thursday. One section of the display shows green coffee beans from Costa Rica, Colombia, Brazil, Hawaii, and Guatemala in their unroasted state.

A picture-study reveals the history of production and consumption of coffee. A special feature of the exhibit is Mrs. Baumgardner's own idea on "How to Make a Good Cup of Coffee." Subjects covered are "Accurate Measurements," "A Quick Cup of Coffee," "Preparation and Serving," and "Average Cost Per Cup."

Thrust and Parry

Farm's South Forty?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The term "independent" as applied to San Jose State athletically is a misnomer. We can't even make up a football schedule until Stanford gives the word. Perhaps we should be referred to as the "Farm's south forty."

That this attitude is shared by many San Jose students is evidenced by criticism of Spartan rooters who dared raise their voices in Stanford's sacred gym Wednesday night.

The criticism came, incidentally, from a member of the San Jose student body.

Sincerely,
ASB 1578, ASB 2992, ASB 3104.

Forty Years

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The Spartan Daily editorial advocating a new Student Union was very interesting—especially the part concerning the financing. It seems that SJS would have to put up $750,000 (half of the necessary $1,500,000) for the building. We already have $35,000, and would put away $18,000 per year until the remaining $715,000 was reached. This would take, according to my crude calculations, about 40 years.

I think this is an excellent plan, for my grandchildren certainly will enjoy the new Student Union. They may even have school spirit.

Sincerely yours,
Russell Howard, ASB 707.

More of Same

Dear Thrust and Parry:

An article in Wednesday's Spartan Daily advocated a $1,500,000 Student Union as a means to raising school spirit.

According to the article, the money for this project would come half from the state and half from student body dues. With $35,000 in reserve and $18,000 a year from student body dues, it would take at least 35 years to raise the necessary $750,000.

Whose school spirit is this proposal for? The grandchildren of our present freshman students?

Seven hundred fifty thousand dollars to spend on social activities for the next 35 years might do a lot more for school spirit than a futuristic building plan.

Sincerely,
Don Gorin, ASB 747.

Normally there are approximately 20 cancellations before the group makes the journey and the ten students who already have inked the waiting list are almost sure to go, she commented.

SJS Faces Minnesota Here Tonight

Gophers Attempt To Snap Streak

By LLOYD BROWN

A somewhat juggled Spartan boxing team will attempt to run its undefeated dual match string to 23 tonight when they meet a strong Minnesota team in the Men's gym at 8 o'clock.

Coach Dee Portal has been forced to use three men who did not take part in the Michigan State 4½-4½ draw two weeks ago because of injuries to Jerry Stern, Stan Marcell, and Darrell Dukes.

Joe Lenhardt, 147 lb., will step into Stern's big shoes and probably meet Pete Lee, one of the Gophers' two highly regarded returning lettermen, Lenhardt TKO'd Al Williams of Treasure Island in their Friday night bout. Another gloveman who scored a TKO Friday night, and who will participate in his first intercollegiate match is Ed Heinrich, 165 lb. He will fill the gap left vacant by Dukes.

Bill Mendosa, 156 lb., who has yet to win a bout this season, but who has not shown his best form, will meet Don Illies, winner of the All-U title at Minnesota.

Highlight bout of the night should be the Don Camp-Neil Ofsthun encounter. Ofsthun, NCAA 125 lb. champion of 1951, defeated Camp in the semi-finals of that tournament. Ofsthun has never lost a dual meet match in his weight division, but Camp, winner of last year's intermountain tournament, is improved over last year and should give the Midwesterner a tough test.

Paul Reuter, light heavyweight, is reported to be ready for action, and will face the Gophers' Ron Bruch. Reuter won his first bout of the season at Cal Poly by a TKO, but lost via the same count against Michigan State's NCAA champion Chuck Spieser. Bruch is highly touted by his coach, Ray Chisholm, and the match may mean the difference between the two teams.

Word from Minneapolis is that the Gophers are strong in the lighter weights and weak up top. A similar situation exists in the Spartan camp. Vic Harris, 132 lb., and Chuck Adkins, 139 lb., will be throwing leather again in an attempt to pile up points.

Harris will meet John "Yogi" Randell and Adkins will touch leather with Steven Shaughnessy. Harris lost a close decision against MSC, but scored a decisive victory Friday night. Adkins, 1950 NAAU champion, should have no trouble with Shaughnessy, but the Midwesterner is expected to show well.

Ted Springston, big heavyweight who had the capacity crowd on its feet in gaining a draw with MSC's Al Tsakiris, will return to action against Sam Orlich.

Net Play Opens

Action got under way yesterday on the Spartan courts in the open tennis doubles tournament which was called off last week due to wet weather.

A total of 12 teams comprise the pre-season racket tourney which is slated to end on Friday, weather permitting. A trophy will be awarded to the winning team.

Camp's Rival

A TOP COLLEGIATE RINGMAN last year, Neil Ofsthun, Minnesota's classy senior 125 lb. NCAA kingpin, will test his ringmanship and reputation tonight against Spartan Don Camp, Dee Portal's rising 125 lb. mittman.

SJS Matmen Whip WSC's Cougars, 20-16

Coach Ted Mumby's varsity wrestlers defeated a powerful Washington State Cougar squad, 20-16, last night to win the first annual Spartan Invitational wrestling jamboree.

Al Cadena's decision over Cougar Joe Hoyt in the 191 lb. match, the final bout of the evening, gave the locals their winning margin. In the feature bout, Frank Waxham, stellar 167-pounder, decisioned Del McGhee of WSC.

Stanford finished third in the two-night stand.

Spartan-Cougar results:
115 lbs.—Kay Toyota (SJS) dec. Jerry Holt (WSC).
123 lbs.—Glenn Anderson (WSC) dec. George Lao (SJS).
130 lbs.—Irv Dahlberg (WSC) dec. Joe Tiago (SJS).
137 lbs.—John Jackson (SJS) dec. Jim Dolle (WSC).
147 lbs.—DeLance Duncan (WSC) pinned Johnny Melendez (SJS).
157 lbs.—Ray Needham (WSC) pinned Joe Thornley (SJS).
177 lbs.—Jim Van Houten (SJS) dec. Bob Crabbe (WSC).
Hvy.—Jean Snyder (SJS) dec. Del Mosler (WSC).

Spartans, COP Tangle Tonight at Stockton

By DAVE GOODWIN

When the San Jose State varsity meets a fast-rising COP five tonight at Stockton, they will attempt to break a two-game losing streak at the expense of the Tiger team that handed them an early season defeat.

Coach Walt McPherson's men have lost their last two contests by close margins, the first to Stanford, 71-66 and the last to San Francisco State, 56-51.

In meeting the Tigers, the Spartans will face a team that has defeated six opponents in their last seven contests. The six wins include two over the previously undefeated University of Nevada Wolfpack.

The fact that Pacific is probably the Spartans' oldest continuous rival in things athletic is expected to add even more to Spartan determination to win the game, McPherson indicated. Center Rod Detrick, who McPherson describes as being a good scorer and an even better defensive man, is leading the current Tiger offense along with Guard Gene Soznick, who towers up to 5'7" in his stocking feet.

The tough Tiger zone defense, which the Spartans failed to dent appreciably in the first game, will be led by Guard George Moscone, their top floorman.

In the San Francisco State game, McPherson said that the Spartans tried only 62 shots from the floor, as compared with a usual total of 80 to 90 attempts.

McPherson credited this factor to the rebound and ball control ability of the Gators, especially evident in the last two minutes of play.

The Spartans will meet the Stu Inman-led Midvalley AAU quintet Saturday in Fresno.

Jayvees Schedule

Coach Bob Wuesthoff's freshman-studded junior varsity will play the National Guard 49ers of Hayward tomorrow in Spartan gym at 8:30 p.m.

The junior varsity will go into the game with an 11-5 record, losing their last outing to Menlo junior college, 45-43.

Haines, currently an instructor at the Choinard Art Institute in Southern California, studied at the Minneapolis School of Art and the Ecole des Beaux Arts at Fontainebleu, France.

Winner of many awards, Haines' work is included in the permanent collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, California State Fair, California Watercolor society, Corcoran Art Gallery, and the Dallas Museum of Art.

Dike, who studied and painted in Europe prior to World War II, is director of painting and drawing at Scripps college, Claremont, Calif.

With a long list of prizes and awards to his credit, Dike also was a former instructor at the Choinard Art Institute and at the Walt Disney Studios, where he taught drawing and composition.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Western Association of Art Museum Directors. Reserve Book room shows at the college are under the auspices of the Fine Arts division.

A welcoming committee, headed by Chuck Wing and Tom Mullan, met Minnesota boxers at the Southern Pacific station yesterday and drove them to the Men's gym for workouts.

Mullan said an informal gathering of boxers, coaches and ring-siders will be held tonight at the Theta Chi house, following the bouts. Minnesota boxers will be lodged at campus fraternity houses during their stay here.
